

ASK A QUESTION:

PRAYER DOESN'T HAVE TO BE ONE-WAY

TODAY'S CHALLENGE

Today's challenge is simply to ask the God of your understanding a question – and wait for and expect a reply (which may not come immediately, or in the form that you expect). I like to start my day by asking:

Where will you have me go today?
What will you have me [or us] do?

Remember, just replace the words "The Divine" with "God", "Great Spirit", "Source", "Universe", or whatever is meaningful for you.

SHARE: In the Facebook group, say how it feels to ask a question in prayer, as though you are in a conversation.

Before or after you post, offer encouragement / comment on Facebook posts added by others (not necessarily for today's challenge).
